Option 2: Credibility Angle

 MEET OUR SPEAKERS: DR. STANLEY D. WILLIAMS

PhD researcher. Filmmaker. Author of The Wizard Clip Haunting trilogy.

Stanley doesn't just tell ghost stories—he documents them.

His specialty? The 1790s Livingston haunting—one of the most thoroughly documented supernatural cases in American history, complete with:

-  Diocese archive records
-  Actual letters between priests and bishops

 Multiple documented exorcisms

 Eyewitness testimonies

 19th-century monographs

Academic credibility meets spine-tingling truth.

Join us at [Conference Name] [Date] to hear the full story!

Option 3: Dramatic/Mysterious Angle

 1794. Virginia. A mysterious clipping sound...

The Livingstons' linens are shredded by invisible scissors. Phantom wagons shake the house. Voices echo from nowhere. Multiple exorcisms FAIL.

The clergy document everything. Bishops get involved. People convert based on what they witness.

And 230+ years later, Dr. Stanley D. Williams has uncovered the archives.

 Hear the full documented account at [Conference Name]!

TWITTER/X THREAD

Tweet 1: 📖 THREAD: Why you need to catch Dr. Stanley Williams at [Conference Name]

He's researched one of the most documented paranormal cases in American history—and it involves exorcisms, bishops, and a Russian prince.

Buckle up. 📖

Tweet 2: 1794. The Livingston family in Virginia starts hearing mysterious clipping sounds. Their linens are shredded by invisible scissors.

Then it gets worse. WAY worse.

Phantom wagons. Violent shaking. Supernatural voices.

Tweet 3: The family is terrified. They call priests. Not just any priests—this goes all the way to Bishop John Carroll, America's FIRST Catholic bishop.

Multiple exorcism attempts. All documented in letters we can still read today.

Tweet 4: Here's the kicker: 14 people converted to Catholicism based on what they WITNESSED.

Not stories. Not rumors. They SAW it happening.

These manifestations were so credible, they changed lives.

Tweet 5: Dr. Stanley Williams (PhD in Film Studies, degrees in Physics & Mass Comm) spent YEARS in church archives piecing together:

-  Priest letters
-  Diocese records
-  19th-c monographs
-  Eyewitness accounts

This is DOCUMENTED history.

Tweet 6: Why does this matter?

Because paranormal research needs cases that can stand up to scrutiny. Cases with PRIMARY SOURCES. Cases that skeptics can actually VERIFY.

The Wizard Clip is that case.

Tweet 7: Catch Dr. Stanley Williams at [Conference Name]:

-  [Date/Time]
-  [Location]

He'll walk through the documents, the exorcisms, the evidence—and teach you how to research historical cases yourself.

Plus, he's written a TRILOGY about it.

Tweet 8/Final: Real history. Real hauntings. Real documentation.

See you there. 🤖
